

Steve Parker is the Principal Advisor on Leader Development for V.E. Solutions. He has over two decades of experience in executive leadership, strategic planning, leader training and operational management.

Steve was a career Army officer, with service in command, advisory and leadership roles on four continents, including tours of duty as a combat commander in Iraq, United Nations Military Observer and Defense Advisor to U.S. Embassies in Africa. He served in the White House on two occasions, assigned to the Domestic Policy Council in the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina and amid the post-9/11 Veteran unemployment crisis.

After leaving the military, Steve helped launch WorkMerk, a privately held software-as-a-service company focused on helping digitize workflow for remote and frontline workers. He subsequently served as Managing Director for Laurel Strategies, a CEO Advisory firm to Fortune 50 companies and high-profile individuals.

Steve serves on the Board of Directors for VetJobs and Military Spouse Jobs and Anixter Center, a 100-year-old Chicago agency that provides employment coaching and other community-based services for those with mental health and developmental disabilities.

Steve is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point and graduate school at Yale University. He was certified as a parachutist and U.S. Army Ranger. He has been recognized with distinction by the U.S. State Department, the United Nations, the Republic of Djibouti and for Presidential Service.

Steve lives in Chicago's Northwest suburbs with his wife and three children and enjoys biking and traveling.